

Applicable BlackBerry™ QNX™ EULAs for QNX Software

In order to use this product, you or the entity you represent must have separately obtained a valid BlackBerry QNX development license, either a Commercial License, Partner License or Non-Commercial License. Additionally, in order to use the QNX OS for Safety AMI and/or QNX Hypervisor you or the entity you represent must also have a valid Project License for the applicable software.

If you have obtained a Commercial License (and, as applicable, a Project License), by subscribing to this product you and the entity you represent agree to terms and conditions at:

http://www.qnx.com/commercial_qdl

If you have obtained a Partner License (and, as applicable, a Project License), by subscribing to this product you and the entity you represent agree to terms and conditions at:

http://www.qnx.com/partner_qdl

If you have obtained a Non-Commercial License (and, as applicable, a Project License) as an individual or on behalf of an entity, by subscribing to this product you and the entity you represent (where applicable) agree to terms and conditions at: http://www.qnx.com/nc_qdl