

End-User License Agreement (EULA) – SPREAD GmbH

This product is not licensed under a general public End-User License Agreement.

All commercial, legal, and technical terms related to the use of SPREAD GmbH software are defined exclusively in individually negotiated contracts between SPREAD GmbH and the customer. These contracts govern the scope of use, pricing, service levels, support conditions, confidentiality, and any other rights or limitations.

No rights or access are granted outside of these agreements. By accepting a private offer through AWS Marketplace, the customer confirms they have entered into such an agreement directly with SPREAD GmbH.

If you have not signed a direct agreement with SPREAD GmbH, you are not authorized to access, install, or use this product.
